Drew's love of cars inspired him to explore educational opportunities beyond traditional universities. He chose Stanly Community College, where his instructors quickly recognized his talent in autobody repair. As a student, he not only excelled in the classroom but also won statewide competitions. "I could not have achieved this level of success without my SCC instructors," Drew reflects. "Their support and guidance helped me build connections and secure my dream job—even before graduation."

90 Years of LEGACY

Three local businesses: One shared partner in progress — the Stanly Chamber of Commerce

By Melinda Burris

As the Stanly Chamber of Commerce nears its 90th anniversary, longtime members reflect on the significance of being part of the organization. They emphasize that membership involves much more than just attending meetings and having your name listed in the membership directory. Below, three business owners share their experiences with the Chamber and explain how it has contributed to their business growth and allowed them to make meaningful contributions to the community.

Hartsell Funeral Home has been a member of the Stanly Chamber of Commerce for over two decades. Louisa Jane Hartsell, the fifth generation of her family to work in the funeral industry, currently serves as a Board Member-at-Large and is closely connected to the Chamber. Hartsell describes the work of the Chamber as "phenomenal" and expresses her appreciation, saying, "I can't speak more highly of our Chamber, Erica, and everyone there." As a business owner, Hartsell acknowledges that challenges are a typical part of running a business, but she finds the support offered by the Chamber to be invaluable. She emphasizes that to fully benefit from Chamber membership, one must "really embrace being a member of the Chamber and not just pay the dues." Hartsell believes that actively engaging with the Chamber helps connect members with resources and other business owners facing similar struggles, reinforcing the idea that they are not alone.

"The Chamber has given me personally opportunities to grow and connect through building relationships and meeting people throughout Stanly County — not just in my sector or Albemarle, but throughout Stanly County," Hartsell said.

She highlights the Chamber's women in business initiative as a valuable opportunity for women entrepreneurs to take on leadership roles in the community. This initiative helps them make meaningful connections and build a strong network that is essential for the continued growth of Stanly County.

Hartsell also discusses the Chamber's mentorship program, which pairs peers to bring small business owners together in a forum. This program allows them to share the challenges they face and receive support and feedback from fellow business owners who are navigating similar issues or have dealt with comparable problems in the past.

According to Hartsell, the Chamber serves as a strong advocate for business owners. "The more I'm involved with the Chamber, the more I get out of it and the more I grow, both as a business owner and personally."

James Baucom, the owner of Tarheel Auto Sales in Locust, currently serves as the chairman of the Chamber's board. His business has been a member of the Chamber for over two decades, having joined in 2002.

The Baucom family has deep roots in the community, with their family business operating for half a century. When the Chamber was first established, it was only natural for the Baucom family to join. As Baucom explains, "My family has always been involved civically with local and county government, from city board or council to economic development for the county."

Baucom emphasizes the value of being a Chamber member, "You get referrals, you get strength from being members in the community and showing commitment to something other than yourself. You get involved by attending events and volunteering, and you start building all these connections professionally, not just for you but also for your company."

Chamber membership, he maintains, "gives your business credibility."

Other benefits Baucom credits to Chamber membership are opportunities to "create friendships within the community, within your business, and generate referrals for your business."

He views the Chamber as a strong advocate for member businesses, promoting the idea of supporting local enterprises.

As much as the Chamber gives to the community, Baucom firmly believes that members are enriched by membership.

"By becoming involved you gain vision. You gain strength by having some professional connections."

Pointing to the pandemic as one example, Baucom shares he didn't feel a need to reach out to the Chamber to request assistance because the connections that were already in place made it possible for competitors and friends throughout the community to come together to gain advice and avail themselves of the Chamber's resources to make it through an unprecedented situation.

While businesses may initially join for what Baucom calls "the immediate gratification you get from ribbon cuttings and advertising," the true value of Chamber membership comes from "actively becoming involved in it, whereas membership is good, active involvement is transformative."

Paige Emerson of A.L. Lowder, Inc., a generational family business that has been serving Albemarle and Stanly County for more than 50 years, said, "Our decision to join the Stanly County Chamber of Commerce was based on the fact that it connects us with businesses, developers and individuals who are new to the area."

Despite being active for five decades, A.L. Lowder, Inc.'s long-standing membership in the Chamber helps those unfamiliar with its services connect with the business through this trusted community resource. Emerson highlighted, "The valuable relationships and credibility that come from being a member are the primary reasons A.L. Lowder, Inc. chose to partner with them."

"Whereas membership is good, active involvement is transformative."

Holt, Mayor

ALBEMARLE & STANLY COUNTY
112 East North Street

Chamber of Commerce, Inc.
ALBEMARLE, NORTH CAROLINA

March 22, 1957

To The Citizens of Albemarle and Stanly County:

Our community has reached a milestone in history. As we look back over the past one hundred years we find ourselves richly blessed in American heritage. As we look to the future we find ourselves even more blessed with horizons yet unattained.

Albemarle and Stanly County began its second one hundred years of progress on February 2nd of this year. In looking to the future we see visions of a vastly expanded commerce and industry in our community.

Within the foreseeable future our industrial capacity undoubtedly will reach an even greater peak. With the abundance of land, labor and other community facilities at hand we have every reason to expect new industrial neighbors greeting our community in the future.

As we grow as a community we also expand as a retail and wholesale trade center. It is not difficult to see that in the next twenty-five years the population of Albemarle will be more than double its present figure. This, of course, means more homes, more families, more jobs and more money. As an end result the commercial development of Albemarle and Stanly County will grow proportionately.

Legacy, Leadership & Local Impact

Celebrating the people and businesses whose vision, service, and dedication carry forward the Chamber's proud tradition of community impact

"I love life here, and I'm thankful for those who have had a part in helping me remain here."

CHARLES BROWN

By Melinda Burris

Nine decades ago, a group of visionary leaders came together to strengthen the bonds of business and community in Stanly County. That spirit of collaboration endures today in the people and enterprises recognized by the Chamber — innovators, advocates, and neighbors whose dedication to service continues to power our county's progress and preserves its proud legacy of leadership.

From those preserving family legacies to those building new opportunities, each award recipient highlighted below reflects the Chamber's timeless commitment to leadership, local impact, and the shared goal of making Stanly County an even better place to live, work, and belong.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR:
Charles Brown, owner of Brown and Senter

Charles Brown's family has practiced law in and around Stanly County for generations, starting with his great-grandfather, who founded the firm in 1878.

"Our family's been here for generations ... We've tried to put a lot into the community, and the community has been good to our family. I think it's been a good two-way road."

The litigator makes it clear his priority has always been to care for his family, his staff and to honor his profession by looking for opportunities to serve his community.

Relying on his legal background, Brown has viewed the chamber as a source of opportunities to analyze Stanly County's challenges and work to find the best solutions to issues as they arise. He is a firm believer that the chamber, working in tandem with state and local government, can accomplish much to advance the community's interests.

"I'm committed to advancing the work and mission of our chamber. The opportunities have been there, and I've stepped forward, trying to lead where possible, trying to serve in every responsible way," he said.

Stanly County for Brown is the right place and the right pace. "I love life here, and I'm thankful for those who have had a part in helping me remain here as I have through my entire life," said Brown.

SMALL BUSINESS OF THE YEAR:
Emricci Pizzeria, owner Dave Emrich

Emricci Pizzeria celebrated 10 years in business this summer. Owner Dave Emrich joined the chamber in 2019 to make connections and invest in the community.

"This is the second business I've owned. I was a franchisee of a large national sub-chain. But even there, it was important to the chain and important to me to be just embedded in a community and serve as much as I could, as best I could. So, when I got here ... that just carried through. That continues to be important," Emrich said.

Emrich's commitment to community service often takes shape through donations or prizes for silent auctions and raffles supporting charitable events and causes. For him, one of the greatest benefits of Chamber membership is the opportunity to connect with others and build lasting relationships.

"The more people I meet, the more people I talk to, the more people I get to know, the more I serve." Emrich maintains that if you view chamber membership "as an opportunity to meet people and serve," you will find ample instances where you can be a support to small community organizations, "be it a church, a PTA or sometimes people raising money for special purposes, such as someone with a medical need or something like that."

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR:

B.R.S., Inc., owner Brad Barringer

B.R.S. Inc., is a fourth-generation family-owned business and one of the leading utility contractors in the state. Founded by Alton and Jay Barringer in 1937, the company has always prioritized a job well done. The primary goal has never been about acquiring wealth; it is simply "to do the best job we can at whatever we do," Brad Barringer said.

The business's journey has included the use of innovative technology along the way.

"We were one of the first contractors I ever remember using an excavator for backfill," Barringer recalls. Prior to that, the exhaustive work was done using hand shovels with a bulldozer pushing the excavated material out.

Barringer takes pride in the knowledge that his family business introduced other important firsts,

"We were one of the first contractors that I know of to take a set holiday for vacations, so everybody would know when to take time off. And we were among the first contractors that I know of to guarantee a bore under a highway or railroad."

Before B.R.S. introduced this guarantee, when a bore contractor hit rock, he would be forced to stop and negotiate a price for the construction of a tunnel. Before he retired, Brad was involved with the chamber primarily at a state level, making contacts and keeping up with legislation and the possible adverse effects of resulting regulations. Timely access to information as a chamber member made it possible for Brad to stay aware of proposed changes so that he could be an effective advocate for his business, the industry and the community.

While most of the company's work is now done outside Stanly County, it employs locals who earn an annual $6 million payroll that goes back into the community, helping to keep the county prosperous.

AMBASSADOR OF THE YEAR:

Rodney Myers, Chief Creative Officer of Digital Rain Media

Rodney Myers credits his award as the 2024 Ambassador of the Year to his completion of the Leadership Stanly Program a few years ago. The chamber sponsors the comprehensive course to cultivate new leadership for the county. After graduation, Myers made firm connections within the chamber, becoming a steering committee member for Leadership Stanly and an ambassador.

Before moving to Stanly County in 2014, Myers had lived in Indiana for 45 years and had been actively involved in the local chamber there. His continuing commitment to community service made him eager to get involved with the Stanly County Chamber.

Myers is a practiced storyteller and has used his professional skills as a content creator and messaging expert to promote chamber events, including ribbon-cutting ceremonies for new businesses and other chamber initiatives. In this role, he attended numerous chamber events over the last year. The media professional explains that the Ambassador of the Year Award is given based on a point system, and the member who attends the most events is given the honor. Though appreciative of the recognition, Myers said, "I don't often do things for awards or anything like that. I do it because I enjoy it; I enjoy supporting and promoting my local community."

"I think I have a unique business doing content, particularly video, because it's such a powerful and big medium right now to use video to promote local businesses and the local community and to help it grow."

According to Myers, growth, facilitated by the right messaging, is key so that the audience you are trying to reach feels they like and can trust you.

"If you want your community to constantly get better and have better amenities and opportunities for everybody, you must grow everything."

"I am truly grateful for the honor that the chamber shared with me. I haven't stepped up and served with the expectation of any recognition," Charles Brown said, eloquently expressing the sentiments shared by all of the award winners.

Sip, Savor & Stay Local

By Ena Sellers

Craft beer. Mountain-grown wine. Small-batch spirits. Stanly County is home to a growing collection of destinations, all sharing one common trait: they are close, convenient, and full of local flavor. Whether you're a longtime resident or a weekend explorer, this self-guided "sipping trail" offers a taste of what makes our community unique — no long drives or crowded city scenes required.

Uwharrie Brewing

121 North 3rd Street, Albemarle, NC

Start your tour downtown at this spacious, industrial-chic brewery, known for its crisp lagers, inventive IPAs, and rotating taps. With live music on weekends and a dog-friendly patio, it's more than just a place to grab a pint — it's a community hub.
Tip: Grab takeout from a local food truck parked outside and enjoy the sunset on the patio.

Badin Brews

124 S 1st Street, Albemarle, NC

Small in size but big on community feel, Badin Brews brings local craft beer culture to the historic heart of Albemarle. The staff knows your name, and the tap list always features something fresh to try.
Fun fact: They often host themed nights, trivia and local musicians — check their social media for events.

Uwharrie Vineyards & Winery

28030 Austin Rd, Albemarle, NC

Just a few minutes from downtown, this vineyard sits on 75 acres of rolling countryside. The tasting room offers both sweet and dry wines, all crafted with regional grapes. It's the perfect setting for a laid-back afternoon with friends or a peaceful solo escape. Don't miss their seasonal wine slushies during the summer months.

The Stanly Sipping Trail

Starting Point: Downtown Albemarle

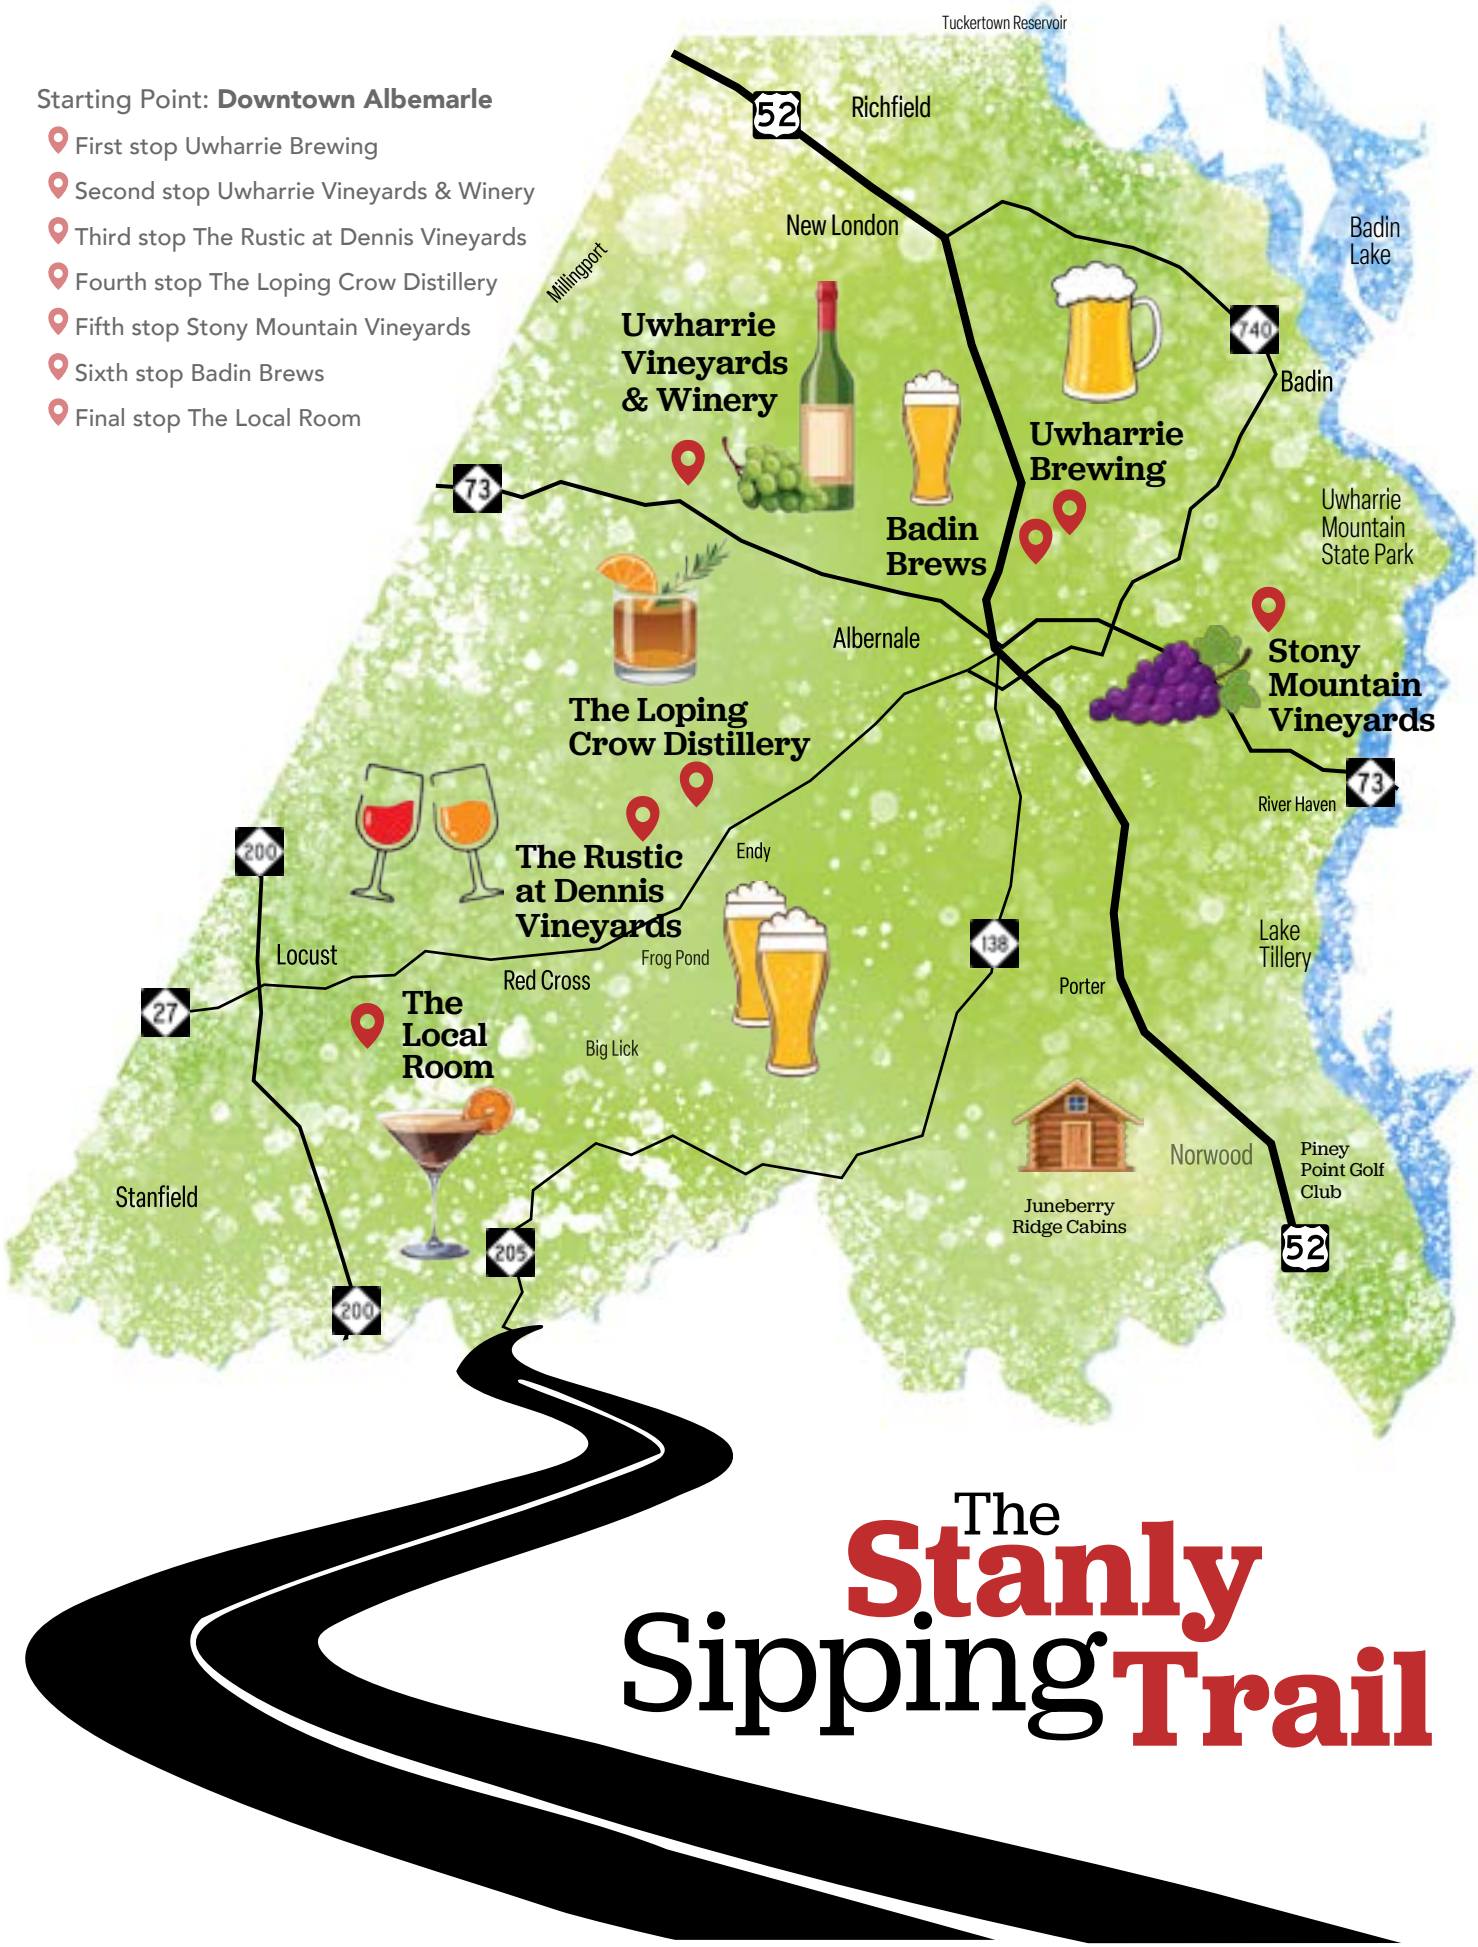
- First stop Uwharrie Brewing
- Second stop Uwharrie Vineyards & Winery
- Third stop The Rustic at Dennis Vineyards
- Fourth stop The Loping Crow Distillery
- Fifth stop Stony Mountain Vineyards
- Sixth stop Badin Brews
- Final stop The Local Room



The Rustic at Dennis Vineyards Beer and Wine Bar

24055 Endy Rd,
Albemarle, NC

A family-owned vineyard with deep roots, Dennis Vineyards has been serving handcrafted wines for decades. Next door, The Rustic Beer and Wine Bar adds a modern touch offering both Dennis wines and a curated selection of craft beer in a cozy, farmhouse-style setting. Perfect for a relaxing afternoon with a charcuterie board and live music.

The Loping Crow Distillery

24030 Endy Rd, Albemarle, NC

Right around the corner from Dennis Vineyards, this small-batch distillery is turning heads with its handcrafted bourbon, vodka and unique flavored spirits. Tastings are intimate and educational, and the team loves sharing how each spirit is made.
It's a must-visit for fans of craft cocktails or anyone curious about the distilling process.

Stony Mountain Vineyards

26370 Mountain Ridge Rd,
Albemarle, NC

Tucked on a ridge with sweeping views of the Uwharrie Mountains, Stony Mountain is worth the scenic drive. Their European-style dry wines are ideal for serious wine lovers and the panoramic tasting room is hard to beat.
Bring a picnic and enjoy it on the terrace overlooking the valley.

The Local Room

215 S Central Ave, Locust, NC

Wrap up your tasting tour with a refined meal and cocktail at The Local Room, an upscale-casual restaurant featuring a locally sourced menu and a full wine and beer list. It's a great spot to transition from sipping to savoring.

Norwood: Where Small-Town Spirit Powers Big Possibility

By Ena Sellers

These Chamber members show how Norwood's blend of local expertise and global reach makes it one of North Carolina's most dynamic small towns.

Norwood is home to a dynamic mix of businesses that contribute to its character, charm and economic strength. Norwood's diverse economy — from locally owned boutiques and services to global manufacturers and destination venues — reflects its versatility and forward momentum. With strong community support, accessible locations, and decades of business continuity, Norwood continues to be a place where businesses grow and thrive.

In Norwood, the everyday essentials — from your morning tee time to last-minute home repairs, stylish finds, and even world-class manufacturing — are never far away. These eight Chamber member businesses are prime examples of how local convenience meets exceptional service. Whether you're a lifelong resident or a first-time visitor, these businesses make Norwood feel like the most accessible small town in North Carolina.

P.J. Ward-Brown

Juneberry Ridge

40120 Old Cottonville Road, Norwood, NC

A Retreat that's Surprisingly Within Reach

Nestled in the heart of Norwood, Juneberry Ridge is a 750-acre regenerative farm and retreat that blends sustainability, education and Southern charm. This innovative destination showcases how agriculture and hospitality can thrive together. Visitors can enjoy farm-to-table dining, wellness retreats, and hands-on learning experiences — all rooted in practices that restore the land and inspire the community. With its aquaponics systems, organic gardens, and serene event spaces, Juneberry Ridge embodies the balance between progress and preservation. It stands as a proud symbol of Norwood's commitment to growth, sustainability, and the beauty of living in harmony with nature.

Piney Point Golf Club

Piney Point Golf Club

48688 Piney Point Rd, Norwood, NC

A Perfect Escape for your Morning Tee Time

Tucked in the heart of Stanly County, Piney Point Golf Club showcases the natural beauty and relaxed charm of the Piedmont region. Spanning 165 acres of rolling terrain just south of Lake Tillery, this 18-hole course offers tree-lined fairways, open vistas, and Champion Bermuda greens for year-round play. Piney Point serves as a welcoming gathering place for community events, business outings, and friendly competition.

Michelin

40589 S Stanly School Rd., Norwood, NC

World-class Innovation, Right Around the Corner

Michelin's aircraft tire facility in Norwood stands as a cornerstone of Stanly County's industrial strength. Specializing in high-precision aircraft tires, the plant brings skilled jobs, global connections, and economic vitality to the region. Its location along key transportation routes highlights Norwood's appeal for advanced manufacturing, supported by a dedicated workforce. More than a production site, Michelin's presence symbolizes innovation, stability, and the community's growing role in North Carolina's diverse and evolving industrial landscape.

Marketing Coordinator

Growing Together for a Stronger Stanly County

With over 400 active members, the Stanly County Chamber of Commerce is more energized than ever in our mission to cultivate and catalyze a vibrant business community. Membership in the Chamber is more than just a title—it's a gateway to powerful resources, meaningful connections, and impactful visibility.

New website, new opportunities

Our completely redesigned website is now fully integrated with Chamber member software making it easier than ever to:

- Register for events
- Pay dues or fees
- Join as a new member
- Access premium advertising opportunities to showcase your business

Enhanced Digital & Social Media Presence

We've elevated our social media strategy, dramatically increasing engagement and visibility for our members. Through our monthly partnership with the Stanly News Journal, your events and successes are also featured in a dedicated Chamber spotlight ad—keeping your business in the public eye.

Community Connections & Workforce Development

We're proud to partner with Stanly Community College, NC Works, and the Stanly EDC to support apprenticeship programs—connecting businesses with qualified talent and helping address workforce needs across the county.

So many great things are happening at the Chamber, and I am excited to see that growth continue in 2026!

Thank you for supporting your local Stanly Chamber community. We invite you to take advantage of all of our wonderful membership benefits by joining the chamber today!

FROM NETWORKING TO LEADERSHIP

Chamber Events that Make a Difference

At the Stanly County Chamber of Commerce, we believe that strong businesses build strong communities. That's why 2025 has been a year of renewed energy, collaboration, and growth—filled with events and initiatives designed to inspire, connect, and empower our local business leaders.

Women in Business

A new initiative designed to bring together Stanly County's incredible female entrepreneurs, professionals, and leaders for networking, support, and inspiration.

Business After Hours – Revitalized!

Our classic networking event is back with a fresh energy! These informal gatherings allow members to connect, collaborate, and build lasting business relationships in a relaxed setting.

Quarterly Lunch & Learns

Offered in partnership with the Stanly Community College Small Business Center, these sessions provide valuable tools and insights to help businesses grow, adapt, and succeed.

Advocacy in Action

In 2025, we hosted the first State Legislative Breakfast in over six years, offering a platform for our business community to speak directly with elected officials. This event marked a renewed commitment to advocacy and civic engagement, ensuring our members' voices are heard on critical local and state issues.

Leadership Stanly: Investing in Future Leaders

The Chamber's signature Leadership Stanly program continues to develop emerging leaders through:

- A 9-month immersive experience
- Exclusive tours, hands-on learning, and networking
- Direct engagement with leaders who are tackling Stanly County's biggest challenges

In May 2025, we proudly graduated 23 new leaders and welcomed a new class of 24 participants in September.

For the first time ever, we offered a full tuition scholarship for a small business owner—empowering even more local leaders to step forward.

Celebrating Excellence

At our 2025 Annual Meeting, we recognized outstanding achievement in our business community by awarding:

- Small Business of the Year
- Business of the Year

These awards shine a spotlight on innovation, dedication, and community impact.

Strengthening Regional Partnerships

We're helping drive regional collaboration by working with the Stanly EDC to support the first-ever Stanly Summit in October 2025—a landmark event focused on economic development, innovation, and cooperation across the region.

Signature Event: Dinner on Main

There's no better expression of our Chamber's mission than Dinner on Main—an unforgettable evening that celebrates Stanly County's local businesses and the heart of downtown Albemarle.

This event brings the community together to enjoy:

- Locally sourced food & drink
- Beautifully set tables under the stars
- A celebration of everything that makes our business community shine

So many exciting things are happening at the Chamber—and we're just getting started! Whether you're a new entrepreneur or an established leader, there's a place for you here as we build a stronger, more connected Stanly County together.

Dinner on Main

This event showcases the vitality of the Stanly County local business community in the heart of downtown Albemarle.
